Dear Mr. Dulles:

This is just a note to express my appreciation for the gathering Thursday evening.

Also I presume that you have seen the inclosed article. It runs much in the same vein as the others.
I thought something of asking him to drop by, but after considering it a bit I believe it is best to let it drop.
Do you agree?

Please give my best to [redacted] when you see him and thanks again.

P. S. Adm. Souers has been in town and has checked all the "high places" including the "Top" and states everything is O.K. -- so-what the hell.

Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg,
Central Intelligence Group,
New War Department Building,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Gen. Vandenberg:

I enjoyed my talk with you yesterday and upon my return here today checked with both Bill Jackson and King Douglass, and you can expect us Thursday afternoon, November 7th, between 4:30 and 5:00, at your office.

I shall be glad to try to get a room at the Metropolitan Club for dinner Thursday evening unless you think of some better place to meet.

I happened to run into [redacted] and he told me that he was already in touch with you about the meeting but I would appreciate it if your office could confirm it to him. You indicated yesterday that Admiral Souers would very possibly be in Washington also.

I hear that [redacted] is getting along satisfactorily and I shall keep him in touch with developments as soon as he is out of the hospital.

Sincerely yours,

A. W. Dulles
A. W. Dulles
